Jade is a Senior Associate in the Employment & Social Law department. She joined the firm in April 2017 and has 7 years of experience within the firm.

She represents and advises clients on all types of labour law matters in Luxembourg, including termination of employment contracts, negotiations of settlement agreements and drafting of employment contracts. Her experience in pleading clients' cases before the Luxembourg labour law courts gives her a very wide-ranging knowledge of current case law and market practice in all labour law related matters.

In addition to her legal practice, she provides in-house trainings to clients and lectures at the House of Training on various topics related to labour law.
